Companies, (non-profit) organizations always need photographic documentation and portraits of employees or the company / organization for their annual reports or projects. The history of the institution and how it has developed is also important for the growth process and corporate culture and can be reinforced and internalized through visualization.

In addition to the photographic documentation, the energies within the processes and the organization / company / project are also visualized and experience a transformation through and during this process, so that the people in the company / project / organization can become aware of where they are within the company and what strengths they can highlight in order to grow together in a targeted manner.

What does it mean?

Photography is more than "just" taking a picture and depicting something. Above all, photography is also the visualization of various (inner) processes. Due to my heightened perception and my high sensitivity, I can perceive discrepancies or negative energies more strongly and put them into perspective with photography. This also means that a photographic documentation of Bildkomplizin photographically - energetically enhances the company / the project / the institution - energetic marketing.
